

I want to be an International Student and study in Victoria, Australia.

What do I do next?

Only the Department of Education (DET) of Victoria (Australia) can place International Students into schools. All enquiries about sending international students to Victorian schools and finding out more information about studying in Victoria can be found on the following website: www.study.vic.gov.au

This website will further inform the applicant and their parents about the application process for enrolling into a Government School.
